

Online communication, collaboration, and communities for development by the development community, for the common good

What drives us

We facilitate and support stronger collaboration, networking, and learning in development, humanitarian, and social justice work - by providing knowledge and expertise, advising on strategy and platforms, supporting online communities and campaigns, and connecting people and ideas - both online and in person.

What we do

- ✓ Engage and support partners in learning, reflection, and knowledge exchange
- ✓ Incubate and facilitate inclusive online communities and conversations
- ✓ Help organizations choose and use simple, effective collaboration tools and platforms
- ✓ Co-design knowledge-sharing and management spaces
- ✓ Deliver training, coaching, and peer support in collaboration and facilitation
- ✓ Support meaningful dialogue through online, in-person, and blended events
- ✓ Develop MEL systems and dashboards that enable learning and reflection
- ✓ Promote integration and interoperability across platforms, tools, and workflows

Who we work with

Dgroups is open to organizations and individuals working across the development, humanitarian, and social justice fields.

We partner with:

- ✓ Development and humanitarian organizations and institutions
- ✓ Research programmes, projects, and networks
- ✓ Civil society groups, collectives, and social movements
- ✓ Individual practitioners and community facilitators
- ✓ Donors, investors, and enablers supporting collaboration and learning

How does it work?

Organizations and projects become partners, contributing to the shared costs of the Foundation:

- ✓ EUR 1000/year -Supporter organizations
- ✓ EUR 550/year - Partner organizations and projects
- ✓ EUR 250/year - Unfunded individuals or collaboratives aligned with our mission

Partnership contributions sustain the shared platform, tools, and services that benefit all members.
